

Basic Upper GI Course for Surgeons

April 21-22nd, 2017

Course Outline

Flexible GI endoscopy has now become an integral part of the practice of Gastroenterology and GI surgery, every Surgeon who practices GI surgery often requires the help of Upper GI Endoscopy to diagnose the various pathologies before planning surgery.

Who should attend?

Surgeons practicing GI Surgery who want to start basic & interventional Upper GI endoscopy as their day to day practice.

Course Objective

- To understand the mechanics and parts of flexible video endoscope.
- To learn how to setup your endoscopy unit.
- To learn the proper indications and contradictions of doing an upper GI endoscopy.
- To master the proper technique of performing a safe and effective upper GI endoscopy.

Program Agenda:

Date	Time	Delegate Group	Lecture/ Demonstration	Live Cases/Hands on
21/04/17
	2.00- 2.05 PM	A	Welcome/Introduction	-----
	2.05- 3.05 PM	A	Special Lecture on Basic Tips or Pre-requisites to perform UGI Endoscopy	-----
	3.00-5.00 PM	A		Hands on Training on Special Animal Tissue

Date	Time	Delegate Group	Lecture/ Demonstration	Live Cases/Hands on
22/04/17
	2.00- 2.05 PM	B	Welcome/Introduction	-----
	2.05- 3.05 PM	B	Special Lecture on Basic Tips or Pre-requisites to perform UGI Endoscopy	-----
	3.00-5.00 PM	B		Hands on Training on Special Animal Tissue

Faculty Name

Dr. Amit Sood

NOTE: There would be limited 20 seats for above course on first come first serve basis.